

---

---

JUNIATA

---

---

college bulletin

World Unrest:

Two Viewpoints

February 1985

FROM THE DIRECTOR

Dorothy Lehman Hershberger '50
Director of Alumni Relations

WHAT A DIFFERENCE A YEAR CAN MAKE! Two autumns ago, Homecoming '83 was scheduled later than usual (first week in November) because of a tight college events calendar, and the weather was uninviting, to say the least. Alumni sentiment was overwhelmingly in favor of returning Homecoming to early October, which is exactly what happened with Homecoming '84. For those of you who attended, you know that we couldn't have picked a better weekend or had a better time. Glorious autumn colors, bright October sunshine, a luncheon buffet on Oller lawn and a football victory over Western Maryland were just some of the high notes of a perfect Homecoming '84. We're sorry that you all weren't here!

The change in homecoming scheduling was just one instance of how alumni input — what you think and what you want — is appreciated by the Alumni Office. It's very easy to think of an alumni office as just a place where records are kept and mailings come from. But an alumni office should be a center of two-way communication and involvement, the place where the ongoing relationship between the college and its alumni takes shape.

Homecoming '84 was the beginning of what looks to be an exciting year of programs and events. There are regional alumni club events during the winter and spring; some alumni drove four hours to club events last year — that's loyalty! Alumni admissions volunteer functions, such as home and regional receptions for prospective students from your area, are in full swing. Alumni travel offers some great and reasonably priced get-aways. Of course, the annual Reunion Weekend on May 31-June 2 will be the climax of the year's activities; even if you're not from one of the reunion classes, you can have a great time with everything that is going on at these gatherings.

Planning is already underway for all of these programs and others, but nothing is set in stone. We welcome your ideas and urge you to become involved and help us make alumni programming what you think it should be. Especially if you haven't been closely involved with the college since graduation, the opportunity to get back in touch is as near as your regional alumni club for most of you. Alumni programming has taken on some new dimensions in recent years, but we're still looking to get bigger and better, emphasis on the better. Through your involvement, or just by telling us what you want or would like to see, you can help us to serve you better.

Remember: Alumni Reunion Weekend on May 31-June 2. We'll be looking for you. In the meantime, "TALK TO US!"

Director of Public Relations and Publications
Robert C. Howden

Vice President for College Advancement
Clayton N. Pheasant

Director of College Advancement
Kenneth M. Kornick

Director of Development
Charles E. Kensinger

Director of Alumni and Church Relations
Dorothy L. Hershberger

Assistant Director of Alumni Relations
Marjorie J. Love

Director of Planned Giving
Kay E. Stephenson, Esq.

Editorial Assistant
Kathleen H. Gibbons '86

Photographers:
David O. Moore '85
Scott A. Steffey '85
Paul A. Peditto '86

Public Relations Secretary
Catherine M. McMahon

Alumni Secretary
Jodi A. McClellan

Juniata College is an independent, privately supported coeducational institution committed to providing a liberal arts education to qualified students regardless of sex, race, religion, creed, color or handicap. Its policies comply with requirements of Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972, and all other applicable federal, state and local statutes, regulations and guidelines.

JUNIATA

college bulletin

February 1985
Vol. LXXIII No. 2

2

Two experts discuss the Middle East and Central America

5

Every wage earner
can benefit from proper financial planning

6

Homecoming and Parents Weekend are huge successes

15

PHASE TWO of the Century II Campaign
launched with gala
celebration

31

1985 Concert Choir
tour itinerary

Departments

- 10 Around Campus
- 20 Sports
- 23 Class Notes

Global Violence . . .

Camp David Peace Talks Reviewed by Ambassador

By Jason M. Roberts '85

Five years have passed since Jimmy Carter orchestrated the historic Camp David Summit between Egypt and Israel. The event induced a diplomatic euphoria among the people involved in what seemed to be an important step toward achieving peace between two hateful societies.

Dr. Hermann F. Eilts, former U.S. Ambassador to Egypt and Saudi Arabia, calls the stagnant agreement "a profound disillusionment" and says that the euphoria was misplaced. He made these remarks during his lecture entitled "The Camp David Peace Process: Problems and Prospects," which he delivered Oct. 23 at Juniata.

Eilts' long history of diplomatic service to the United States makes him one of the most qualified commentators on Camp David as it applies to the present crisis in the Middle East. After his medal-spangled tour of duty during World War II as a U.S. Army officer in Europe and North Africa, Eilts served in the U.S. Foreign Service and in the State Department where he earned the Distinguished Honor Award. He has also served in the American embassies in London and Baghdad and has been a member of the U.S. delegations to such international conferences as the U.S./Egyptian/Israeli meetings and the Camp David Summit. He is currently a professor of international relations and chairman of the political science department at Boston University.

The world has all but forgotten the Camp David Summit. The turmoil in the Middle East continues to gain attention from the media; the extensive bloodshed is a sobering comment on the effectiveness of Carter's peace process, according to Eilts.

Eilts offers a logical series of reasons for the collapse of the accords, but believes there is still hope for peaceful coexistence between the Arabs and the Israelis. He says that the peace documents must be clarified and that further talks must be expanded to include delegations from other U.S. allies who share our interests in the Middle East.

The major issues at Camp David were territorial disputes over the Sinai Peninsula, West Bank and Gaza. Sadat wanted the Israelis to withdraw from occupied Arab territory while Begin argued for an equitable division of the lands in question between the two nations. Political autonomy for Palestinians in Israel was another major Arab concern.

Although the issues seemed clear enough, the attempt at settling them would be a long and tedious process for everyone involved. According to Eilts, Carter took a great risk in arranging the summit conference because the areas of disagreement had not been narrowed sufficiently. "If you go into a summit meeting without doing this, your president is put in a position where he will fall flat on his face," Eilts says.

Carter had been warned that Sadat intended to have a confrontation with Begin at Camp David and that the two would be at each other's throats if allowed to engage in substantive discussion in the same room. Carter allowed Sadat to read the Egyptian proposal to Begin, a major error in Eilts' opinion, because of Sadat's dull vocal characteristics and the long-winded nature of the proposal. "The two went at each other's throats, accusing each other of being responsible for the failure of the peace talks. Carter realized that maybe it wasn't such a good idea to bring them together in this manner," Eilts says. All further negotiations were left to Egyptian and Israeli delegations.

Eilts believes that after 19 drafts, the final document became so watered down with vague language that it became essentially meaningless and served as a justification for many of the subsequent military and political actions of both sides. "The issue of semantics has become a menace to every U.S., Arab and Israeli administration that has attempted to make peace in the Middle East," Eilts notes. Hours upon hours were spent arguing over the true definition of "autonomy" and how the presence or absence of the article "the" changed the meaning of the document.

Eilts says that Sadat was responsible for making Camp David a "mild success" for Carter. He compromised on some of the Israeli proposals and agreed to receive Israeli Foreign Minister Moyshe Dayan, opening another channel of

(continued page 4)

Socio-Economic Problems Plague Central America

By Cynthia M. Duick '85

"If you desire peace, prepare for peace," was the message issued by Rodrigo Carazo Odio, former president of Costa Rica, during Juniata's Dec. 3 World Affairs Lecture on the Central American crisis.

Carazo discussed Costa Rica's "exceptional" role as a neutral, democratic and unarmed country existing in the midst of conflict. Juniata students, staff and local residents filled Ellis Hall's faculty lounge to capacity to hear the lecture on crisis, problem solving and peace.

The Rev. Dr. M. Andrew Murray, campus minister, introduced Carazo who served as Costa Rica's president from 1978-82. In 1978, he proposed the establishment of an international University for Peace which was approved by the United Nations General Assembly in 1980. Carazo currently serves as president of the United Nations Council of the University for Peace.

Carazo opened his lecture with introductory remarks about Costa Rica. He stressed the importance for personal meetings where a person from Central America has the opportunity to come and talk with the people of the United States about their countries and problems.

Carazo explained the problems of Central America in socio-economic and political terms. Violence and crisis have erupted, he said, because the majority of people became "tired" of the injustice. According to Carazo, the basic socio-economic problems are the unequal distribution of wealth, the economic structure based on limited crops, the dependence on imports and the loss of potentially democratic political institutions to dictatorships.

Because of Central America's geostrategic position, the countries end up as "battlefields for other people's battles." Carazo said he has seen peasants fighting peasants for land and the ideals of other countries. He summarized that the problems of Central America come from both within the region and from abroad.

The solutions for overcoming these problems of poor human conditions and armed combat are to be found in justice. Crisis is a consequence of the lack of justice and "justice can be achieved through peaceful means," he emphasized. The solution must be pluralistic with full respect for human rights. Carazo called for an end to military intervention, saying that only dialogue, rather than violence, will lead to a political solution. The hopes, aspirations and the standard of living of the majority of people must be raised.

As a democratic nation with no military forces and a foreign policy of neutrality, Costa Rica fills a mediator and problem solving role in the complex conflicts present in Central America, Carazo said. Costa Rica provides its own model of action and commitment to peace and the development of justice as a successful example to other nations. The country's constitution abolished the army, so its national security rests in international solidarity.

Another example of Costa Rica's commitment to peace is the University for Peace. Carazo explained that education is seen by Costa Ricans as the best investment for the future. Thirty to 40 percent of their national budget finances public education. Every small village has a primary school and every city has a high school. Education in their eyes is one of the most important instruments of action.

As a result of this commitment, Carazo developed the idea of an education system for the promotion of peace. "Peace in human society is unthinkable unless each man is at peace within himself," he said, "Personal peace is the basis for international peace." And so the international University for Peace was developed as a "laboratory for the spirit of peace."

The University for Peace, which is located outside San Jose, the capital of Costa Rica, sponsors programs to educational institutions worldwide and prepares for peace by training man's intellect for peace.

Carazo concluded his speech by continuing to stress the non-military aspects of Costa Rica saying, "Costa Rica's lack of force is its strength, . . . its weapons are the moral character of its people." He announced that it was with "great pride and great sadness" that he served his country as president. The sadness resulted from the internal and external problems of Central America. He repeated that violence will never solve problems, and military intervention in Central America could create a war that could last for several years.

While on campus, he also reviewed Juniata's Peace and Conflict Studies Program. Juniata is one of only 88 colleges and universities in the country to offer such a program. It has received considerable attention from the United Nations.

The peace studies program at Juniata was established in 1974 through the efforts of Dr. John C. and Elizabeth E. Baker of Essex Fells, N.J. Dr. Baker '17 is a member of the Board of Trustees.

Editor's Note: Cynthia M. Duick is a communications major from Lancaster who is working in the Public Relations Office during the winter term as part of an independent study program. □ communication between the two nations. Eilts contends that the U.S. betrayed Sadat and must assume part of the responsibility for his assassination. "He took risks believing that the U.S. would continue the peace process and we left him dangling," Eilts says.

He blames our betrayal of Sadat on the shift of priorities that occurred when President Reagan took office. Carter's commitment to world peace vanished when Reagan was elected on his platform of improving the domestic economy and dealing with the threat of Soviet military supremacy. Eilts took time to assail Reagan's decision to send peacekeeping forces to Lebanon. "Anybody who believes that you can revive the stagnant Arab-Israeli peace process by going through the Lebanese quagmire is not in his right senses...he doesn't understand the perverse political and social dynamics of Lebanon."

This accusation was part of the recurrent theme in Eilts' lecture: the Camp David accords have remained stagnant for so long that leadership of the nations involved has fallen into the hands of men who were not present at the talks; a communication gap that was reduced has expanded through the passage of time.

Although the peace process has a "limited shelf life," as Eilts describes it, the U.S. can still serve as a peace broker in spite of the caution generated among Middle East leaders by our actions in Lebanon. "We can't jettison Camp David, we must build on it," he says. "Our interests require reviving the peace process. We will see new rounds of hostilities if the process is not continued."

Thinking in terms of a Geneva-style international conference on the Middle East, Eilts recommends that we "shift signals to gain success." He knows that Reagan recognizes the U.S.'s lack of ability to revive negotiations and recommends the inclusion of delegations from France, Britain and Italy in an international conference. "After all, they were involved in the MLF dirty work in Lebanon," Eilts points out.

Dr. Hermann F. Eilts

Another factor in trying to insure the success of further negotiations is to "limit the mischief making role of the Soviet Union," as Eilts puts it. He believes that the USSR should not be part of any substantive negotiations, but should be available for consultations regarding Soviet interests in the Middle East, should there be an impasse between the negotiating parties.

A graduate of Ursinus College and Johns Hopkins University, Eilts holds five honorary doctorates, including an L.H.D. degree from Juniata in 1980 when he delivered the commencement address. Eilts appeared at Juniata as part of the World Affairs Lecture Series sponsored by the political science department and the Peace and Conflict Studies Committee with support from the John C. and Elizabeth E. Baker Endowment, the Sedgley Thornbury Lectureship and the William G. and Mary A. Nyce Lectureship.

Editor's Note: Jason M. Roberts, a communications major from Lawrenceville, N.J., spent the fall term as an intern in the Public Relations Office. □

Realistic Financial Planning

By R. Clifford Berg, Jr. '69

The financial services industry is one of the fastest growing industries in this country today. Insurance firms, banking institutions and brokerage houses have revolutionized the industry since banking deregulation took effect. A wave of mergers, new products and services have occurred because of this growth. In addition, the ever-changing tax picture, along with inflation and fluctuating interest rates, has given the American public a greater awareness of the need for financial planning.

Financial planning involves establishment of financial objectives and accumulation and distribution of money consistent with those objectives. Financial planning involves establishment of realistic financial objectives, development and implementation of plans to achieve those objectives, and periodic review and evaluation of progress.

Financial planning is not just for the well-to-do. Virtually every wage earner can benefit to some extent by implementing a financial planning process.

Financial objectives are established in the following areas:

Income Tax Planning — This process minimizes present and future tax burden to maximize effective use of earnings. Techniques, such as implementing Qualified Plans, i.e., Individual Retirement Accounts, Pension and Profit Sharing Plans, 401K Plans and Tax Sheltered Annuities for employees of non-profit organizations, might be utilized. Shifting income to relatives in lower tax brackets through Clifford Trusts, gift-lease back arrangements, or hiring minor children and/or spouses in one's business can effectively reduce the tax bites. Maximizing deductions along with shifting taxable income to non-taxable income through municipal bonds, annuities and limited partnership tax shelters also provide large tax savings.

Financial Independence — Objectives are established according to the age at which one may want to retire as well as income level required. Taking an assumed inflation rate, the income level is then projected out to retirement so that corresponding purchasing power is attained. The growth of present working capital, retirement benefits and Social Security are then matched with the income level projection to analyze the level of savings to be achieved, if any, for accomplishment of the objective.

Funding For Education — If providing a higher education is important, then objectives are established according to the amount needed. Planning involves determination of educational goals and projections of how much the child may be able to provide. After establishing these goals, today's costs are then projected ahead to the time when the child is to be educated as a means of determining inflation. An analysis of the capital required to provide for this need is then accomplished.

Estate Preservation — This study involves establishment of an effective estate plan to minimize dissipation of assets at death from estate settlement costs, protect a family's standard of living, and pass on assets to survivors.

Family Protection — Objectives are established according to the level of income needed for survivors in the event of an untimely death. An analysis of the capital required to provide for this need is then accomplished.

In the process of gathering information and objectives, a balance sheet of assets and liabilities is produced along with an analysis of net worth. A determination of working capital as well as liquidity and diversification position is completed.

After completion of the income tax analysis, a cash flow statement is produced. A study of present expenditures along with insurance coverages is then completed.

The effect of inflation can be dramatic in the planning process. The following task outlines this effect:

(continued next page)

Monthly Income Needed for Financial Independence

$3200/mo. inflated @ 3.00%/yr. for 20 years = $ 5,780
$3200/mo. inflated @ 5.00%/yr. for 20 years = $ 8,491
$3200/mo. inflated @ 7.00%/yr. for 20 years = $12,383
$3200/mo. inflated @ 9.00%/yr. for 20 years = $17,934
$3200/mo. inflated @11.00%/yr. for 20 years = $25,799

The most important consideration in financial planning is choosing the person who will design the plan. One will work closely with this person not only now, but for many years to come. The planner should be able to produce a sample plan, provide referrals, and possess the appropriate credentials.

Editor's Note: R. Clifford Berg, Jr., CLU, ChFC, a member of Juniata's Alumni Council, is a partner in the Financial Dynamics Group, a financial planning firm in Wilmington, Del. □

Establishing Scholarship Brings Thanks

*Ellen Carter recently had the pleasure of experiencing one of the benefits of establishing a scholarship at Juniata. The first recipient of the Carl N. Carter Memorial Scholarship was able to thank her in person.

"My husband and I had planned to leave a scholarship fund to Juniata College in my will," Mrs. Carter explained. "But after his death, I felt that I would like to establish a scholarship in his name during my lifetime."

To achieve her goal, Mrs. Carter made a contribution to Juniata's Pooled Income Fund. She receives income from the fund (currently earning over 11 percent) four times a year. Each fall, she donates the interest, in the form of a scholarship, to the college for a worthy senior student who is active in campus activities.

Mrs. Carter receives significant tax benefits from her gift to Juniata. Much more satisfying to her, however, is the joy of seeing, in her own lifetime, the direct benefits to students from the living memorial she established to her husband.

The personal satisfaction Mrs. Carter has experienced is possible for anyone, and the types of available scholarships are quite varied. For instance, they can be set up for students majoring in science or languages, for students coming from New Jersey or Pennsylvania, for freshman, sophomores, juniors or seniors (or for all four years!). If you are considering a gift of this type and would like further information, call or write Kay E. Stephenson, Planned Giving Officer, Founders Hall, Juniata College, Huntingdon, PA 16652 Phone (814) 643-4310, extension 216.

*The story is true. The names have been changed in the interest of privacy. □

Margaret E. Evans, a senior from Murrys ville, was crowned the 1984 Homecoming Queen during halftime ceremonies at the Homecoming football game. She is escorted by Jeffrey R. Ostrowski '84.

Homecoming and Parents Weekend Draw Enthusiastic Crowds for College Events

"Around the World" and "Growing Together into the Future" were the themes of two important weekends at Juniata this fall, Homecoming and Parents' Weekend.

Both weekends were magical as Juniata welcomed friends and relatives to share in the special activities and festivities.

Homecoming, held Oct. 5-6, provided traditional Juniata activities flavored by the international theme.

Saturday's festivities began with the Homecoming parade. Class and residence hall floats, the Juniata College Band and apparatus from the Huntingdon Fire Department combined to create a colorful parade. Dr. Duane F. Stroman, professor of sociology and recipient of the 1984 Beachley Distinguished Professor Award, served as this year's Grand Marshall.

(continued next page)

An International Buffet Luncheon was held on Oller Lawn Saturday, with the added touch of a German folk group, the Alpin Schmaltzers, providing music on the Detwiler Plaza.

The highlight of the afternoon was the crowning of Margaret E. Evans, a senior from Murrysville, as Juniata College's 1984 Homecoming Queen. President Frederick M. Binder presented Miss Evans with the crown during halftime ceremonies at the Homecoming football game. The Queen's court, one representative from each class, also was announced at halftime. Due to a tie vote, two freshmen were elected to the court this year. They are Lisa A. Baer of Titusville, N.J. and Maryjoy Sagan of Dalton. The rest of the 1984 court consists of sophomore Jill M. Wineka of York, junior Lisa A. Smoker of Lancaster and senior Susan L. Martin of Danville.

A business administration and computer science major, Miss Evans is a 1981 graduate of Plum Senior High School and co-captain of the volleyball team.

Miss Martin, a 1981 graduate of Danville High School, is an elementary and early childhood education major. Miss Smoker is an international studies major and a 1982 graduate of Conestoga Valley High School. A pre-law and American politics major, Miss Wineka is a 1983 graduate of Red Lion Area High School. Miss Sagan is a 1984 graduate of Abington Heights High School, and Miss Baer is a 1984 graduate of Pennridge High School.

The Homecoming Queen and her court were selected by Juniata students from among 17 candidates representing the senior, junior, sophomore and freshman classes.

The Olympic Games and the athletes of the world were saluted during the annual Homecoming parade.

Juniata was victorious in sports action during the weekend. The football team defeated Western Maryland 10-0 to the delight of the spirited crowd. In the 15-team Juniata Volleyball Classic tournament, the Juniata women shut out the team from Shippensburg 2-0 to win the finals. The tournament began Friday afternoon, continued Saturday morning and concluded Saturday evening with the semi-finals and finals.

Events held throughout the weekend included an "Almost Anything Goes" contest between residence halls and an art exhibit in Shoemaker Galleries. Festivities closed with the traditional Homecoming dance Saturday evening.

Parents' Weekend provided two more days of activities. The theme "Growing Together into the Future" proved to be appropriate as parents, students, brothers and sisters joined as Juniata families, sharing and experiencing time together on College Hill.

There were plenty of activities spanning the Oct. 26-28 weekend. Friday and Saturday, Shoemaker Galleries were open for a 19th century print exhibition entitled "Ruins and Memories," and associate professor of music Ibrook Tower directed the Juniata College Band in two concerts of popular band favorites.

(continued next page)

Following the Lycoming football game, Parents Weekend visitors gathered on Detwiler Plaza for a post-game reception hosted by President and Mrs. Binder.

Families met with administration and faculty Saturday morning during "Coffee with the Profs" on Detwiler Plaza. The Kennedy Sports + Recreation Center facilities were open for family use throughout the day.

Two special programs, "The World of Computer Games" and "Chemistry Can be Fun," as well as a lecture on "The Parent's Role in their College Student's Life" were given by Juniata faculty members.

The popular "Artists on the Hill" returned for their eighth annual visit, displaying locally made handiwork and crafts.

Sports events included a Juniata football game against Lycoming and the Indian Invitational Volleyball tournament. The football team was narrowly defeated by Lycoming 28-29, while the volleyball players captured the tournament in which they faced five other teams.

A "Big Band" dance for both students and parents concluded Saturday's activities.

Parents' Weekend 1984 drew to a close Sunday with the Parents Association Breakfast, the All-Campus Worship Service and an afternoon cruise on Raystown Lake. □

Dr. Montgomery Honored by Founders Club

In recognition of his many years of dedicated service to Juniata College, Dr. John B. Montgomery '21 of Merion Station was honored during the annual Founder's Club luncheon Saturday, Oct. 6.

President Frederick M. Binder

praised Dr. Montgomery for the honor he has bestowed on the college through his brilliant medical career. Born in Lewistown and raised in Huntingdon, Dr. Montgomery went on to receive his medical degree in 1926 from Thomas Jefferson University. After serving his internship, he joined the medical staff at the university and was named Clinical Professor of Obstetrics and Gynecology in 1940. He has received many honors from Jefferson including an honorary Doctor of Pedagogy degree and conferral of the status of Professor Emeritus.

Throughout his many years of service to Juniata, Dr. Montgomery has been a Trustee since 1950 and Trustee Emeritus since 1972. He has received the college's two highest honors, the Alumni Achievement Award and an honorary Doctor of Science degree.

"...His greatest service to the college has been largely unspoken and unrecorded — the many young men and women from Juniata that he has influenced and helped to prepare for medical careers in his years at Jefferson. Included among these are his own son, Dr. Bruce Montgomery, Juniata class of 1956 and Jefferson class of 1960," Dr. Binder noted. Other Juniataians in the Montgomery family include Dr. Montgomery's wife, Elizabeth Haines Montgomery '24 and his brother, the Rev. Frank Montgomery '26.

A third generation of Montgomerys is upholding the family tradition at Juniata. Ann Montgomery is a 1982 graduate of the college and her brother John is a member of the class of 1986.

Dr. Binder commended Dr. Montgomery for establishing himself as one of the leading figures in his field and one of the most distinguished in a long line of Juniata-bred medical professionals.

Several members of the Montgomery family attended the Founders Club luncheon. □

Dr. John B. Montgomery '21 (left) is congratulated by Dr. Frederick M. Binder at the annual Founders Club luncheon. Dr. Montgomery was honored for his service to the college.

Dr. Kennedy Cited for Achievement

The Council for Advancement and Support of Education (CASE) has presented Dr. Edwin L. Kennedy 'H77 with its Exceptional Achievement Award as one of the top 10 higher education volunteers in the country.

Dr. Kennedy, a member of Juniata's Board of Trustees since 1969, received his award at the National Volunteers Recognition Gala in Washington, D.C., Oct. 16. The banquet was held in conjunction with National Higher Education Week (Oct. 13-20) and several Juniata representatives were present, including Dr. Frederick M. Binder, president, and Dr. Charles C. Ellis '40, chairman of the Board of Trustees.

A graduate of Ohio University and a member of its Board of Trustees, Dr. Kennedy was nominated for the CASE award by his alma mater with supporting endorsements from Juniata and Hiram College, where he also is a trustee. Dr. Kennedy was cited for his volunteer work in the area of institutional advancement, leadership and dedication to the promotion of higher education.

A resident of New Vernon, N.J., Dr. Kennedy is advisory director of Lehman Brothers, Kuhn, Loeb, Inc., the international investment firm he has been associated with since 1952. He is a member of the Board of Directors of the Kerr-McGee Corp. and a former director of the Ingram Corp., Oil Shale Corp., Sunlite Oil Company Limited, Tosco, Republic National Gas, Murphy Corp. and Southern Production.

Dr. Kennedy has served Juniata as honorary chairman of the Margin of Difference campaign completed in 1976 and the Sports + Recreation Center phase of the Century II Campaign. The new Kennedy Sports + Recreation Center is dedicated to Dr. Kennedy and his late wife, Ruth E. Kennedy.

"Dr. Kennedy's many volunteer efforts on behalf of Juniata are outstanding examples of his dedication to higher education in America," Dr. Binder noted. "His selection as one of the top 10 volunteers in the country is richly deserved and serves as a tribute to his commitment to the advancement of institutions like Juniata."

Dr. Edwin L. Kennedy

Student does Research at Oak Ridge Lab

Juniata senior Lewis C. Baylor, a chemistry major from Lititz, was one of 73 students from around the nation who spent the summer conducting advanced research at the Oak Ridge National Laboratory in Tennessee.

The first Juniata student to participate in the program, Baylor worked in the National Laboratory's Analytical Chemistry Division researching the application of infrared spectroscopy to quantitative measurements on complex organic mixtures. "We were trying to develop a quick way to find out what's in a sample of coal. The goal for the part of the project that I was in was to find out how much of a specific chemical was in the samples I prepared. We didn't get quite that far, but we found a definite relation between infrared spectra and the chemicals we were studying in the samples," he said.

The Student Participation Program is sponsored by the U.S. Department of Energy and administered for DOE by Oak Ridge Associated Universities, a non-profit association of over 50 colleges and universities. The program is designed to introduce students to a nonacademic research environment and encourage them to further their education in research-related fields. "My career interest is industrial research chemistry," Baylor said. "Doing this research helped me to confirm that I enjoy research and want to do it for a living."

Baylor was in Tennessee from mid-June until the end of August. He worked 40 hours per week with students from as far away as California.

A National Merit Scholar, Baylor has been on the Dean's list during most of his time at Juniata. He has been awarded the Brumbaugh-Ellis Presidential and Charles C. Ellis Memorial scholarships. □

Lewis C. Baylor '85

---

AROUND CAMPUS

---

Dr. Martin Clark Succumbs at 55

Dr. Martin Clark, associate professor of sociology and religion and a member of the Juniata faculty since 1973, died June 19 following an extended illness. He was 55.

Born in London, Dr. Clark received his B.A. and M.A. degrees from Cambridge University and his Ph.D. from Harvard University. He taught at Western Connecticut State College before coming to Juniata, and also served as assistant minister at Trinity Church, Princeton, N.J.

Dr. Frederick M. Binder, president of Juniata, called Dr. Clark a compassionate man and an outstanding professor. "Dr. Clark was a fine individual who was dedicated to his profession and his students. He was a valued member of the faculty and will be missed."

The college has established a memorial fund in Dr. Clark's honor. Contributions may be sent to the College Advancement Office.

The following tribute to Dr. Clark was prepared by Dr. Robert E. Wagoner, professor of philosophy.

During Martin Clark's last days, when he was bedfast and could no longer read for himself, a friend visited and offered to read aloud to him. But what book? No longer capable of speech, Martin pointed to his copy of Pilgrim's Progress by John Bunyan. It was a revealing incident. His desire to hear the familiar words of Bunyan's great allegory was in a way reflective of his life.

He was indeed a man whose life seemed to have been a continuing quest, a pilgrimage which was still on the way when he died on June 19, 1984. The son of a distinguished Oxford historian, Martin studied at Cambridge University, worked for the Bank of England for a few years and even briefly commanded a troop of soldiers during the Suez crisis in 1956. But his deepening personal quest led him to enter the Anglican priesthood in England and to serve in a poor parsh. Later he came to the United States, became a citizen, joined the Society of Friends, and then earned a Ph.D. at Harvard University, and finally in 1973, he came to Juniata College where he found as much of a home as he was ever to find. Afterwards, he was to say of his coming to Juniata: "It seemed so right."

In many ways he appeared to be the very model of the proper English scholar. His breadth of learning, elegant use of language, diffident manner and delightful sense of humor made him a charming and stimulating colleague. But he had quite deliberately left behind him the formality and orthodoxy of his Oxford upbringing. He had become an American and a Quaker and a mystic. His studies of the theology and social structure of the early Christian church had shown him its limitations as well as its strengths. The truth Martin sought was a truth beyond particular religious truths.

There was as a result a quiet restlessness about him that could not be contained by particular creeds or limited intellectual positions. He was, as one colleague observed, "terribly fair-minded" — never closing an issue to further questioning, always giving the benefit of doubt. He made no claims on the absolute, nor could he see how anyone else could. More than once he had occasion to remind combative colleagues not to forget Rule Six (or Rule Eleven, or whatever): "Don't take yourself too seriously." Of course, one had to ask, "And what are the other rules, Martin?" "There aren't any others," he would reply mischievously.

Dr. Martin Clark

Characteristically, Martin took pains to spend time with students individually. The organized lecture presentation was not his strong point, but he excelled in one-to-one tutorial sessions and discussions, where his sensitivity and openness were special strengths in the exploration of ideas and the growth of personalities.

Martin believed strongly in human values and was known for his commitment to humanitarian causes, one of which was his continuing concern for the rights of prisoners. With a small group of friends, he was active in establishing a regular program of visitation to keep at least some minimal contact with those who had been legally isolated from the rest of human society. But more than anything else, Martin was devoted to the cause of peace. For him, this meant not only the intellectual grasp of the technical issues — the dynamics of institutions, military preparedness, diplomatic negotiations, and so on — but also the achievement of personal peace. Like many Quakers, he believed there was an essential identity between conflict resolution on the international level and the resolution of personal and interpersonal conflicts. He was troubled when the expression of his singular views sometimes exasperated colleagues. "I want to be a peacemaker," he said.

(continued next page)

In his own life, he seems to have at length found this peace. The long and uncertain struggle with his illness brought him many trials and much suffering, but neither self-pity nor bitterness overtook him. His tranquility in the face of death amazed everyone. Moreover, his composure was not the forced dignity of one who kept himself under control by a rigid self-discipline. His was the genuine peace of one whose very deep faith had in fact freed him from the pain of anxiety and regret. His death, like his life, was an affirmation. □

Rare Books Researched

The rare book collection in Juniata's L. A. Beeghly Library has long been considered one of the finest in the nation, but a research project now underway at the college is determining exactly how unique this collection is.

Dr. William T. Parsons, professor of history and director of Pennsylvania German Studies at Ursinus College, is currently researching the contents of Juniata's 12,000 volume collection which includes almanacs, books, pamphlets, handwritten manuscripts and letters and several other publications of predominantly Pennsylvania German origin. Considered a leading authority on Pennsylvania German cultural history, Parsons is developing a complete annotative bibliography of Juniata's collection. Part of the project is being funded by a $10,000 grant from the Arcadia Foundation of Norristown.

"I hope to have the bibliography published as a two-volume reference manual with listings based on the language in which the rare books are written," Parsons said. The publication will include brief descriptions of each piece in the collection so researchers can decide if it will be valuable material for a specific project.

A large portion of the collection is comprised of books and other publications that belonged to Abraham Harley Cassel, a Pennsylvania German farmer who had a passion for literature and knowledge. "He collected things long before anybody thought they had any value. Like most of the Pennsylvania Germans, Cassel saved everything because he never knew when he might need it," Parsons said.

Cassel was one of the original students of the Brethren Free School and bequeathed one-third of his collection to Juniata College. The college was founded in 1876 by Brethren scholars. The rest of the Cassel collection went to an Illinois theological seminary and the

(continued next page)

Dr. William T. Parsons, professor of history at Ursinus College, studies some of the 12,000 items in Juniata's rare book collection housed in the L.A. Beeghly Library.

Historical Society of Pennsylvania.

Other portions of the rare book collection came from Martin Grove Brumbaugh, former president of Juniata and governor of Pennsylvania during World War I. An avid collector of literature, Brumbaugh donated the collection's first volumes in 1899. He also coordinated the acquisition of Juniata's portion of the Cassel collection by personally choosing the volumes that are now in the college's collection.

W. Emmert Swigart of Huntingdon, also a noted benefactor of the college, donated many volumes and provided funds to house the rare books.

The value of the entire collection has not yet been assessed, but according to Parsons, it includes "the finest collection of letters and manuscripts by the founders of the Brethren Church in America, to be found anywhere in the world." The most important part of the collection is the Sauer Bibles, the first American Bibles to be printed in native European languages.

The project is in the second of the three years it will take to complete. Parsons, who teaches a full course load at Ursinus, usually comes to Juniata every third week during the academic year and every week during the summer.

Parsons is the author of The Pennsylvania Dutch and numerous articles which regularly appear in such publications as Pennsylvania Folklife, a monthly publication which features material on the Pennsylvania Germans.

In addition to the grant from the Arcadia Foundation, which funds a variety of projects, particularly those relating to Pennsylvania history and Pennsylvania German culture, the research project is partially funded by the Friends of the Juniata College Library. □

Administrative Staff Undergoes Some Changes for 1984-85

A number of administrative changes were announced by President Frederick M. Binder during this year's first academic term.

John V. Linetty was appointed director of physical plant. He is responsible for the operations and maintenance of the physical plant, residence halls and endowment property, as well as utilities management and college vehicles. Prior to this new appointment, Linetty was director of housing and security and assistant dean of student services. He joined the Juniata administration in 1977.

In the area of student services, Julia A. Keehner was promoted to associate dean of student services and director of residential life. In her new role, Miss Keehner is responsible for the total residential life structure, including programming and operational functions. She continues her work in student orientation, women's programming, and health and food services which she had been responsible for as assistant dean of student services for residential life, the post she had held since coming to Juniata in 1982.

Also in the student services area, Randall C. Deike was named assistant to the director of residential life. He aids Miss Keehner in the administration of the residential life program at Juniata. Deike also continues to serve as a residence hall director, a post he has held since 1981. He is a Penn State graduate.

Robert E. Adamek '84

The college's newest admissions counselor is Robert E. Adamek '84. He is responsible for student recruitment in south central Pennsylvania, upstate New York and suburban Washington, D.C.

Kay E. Stephenson has joined the administration as planned giving officer and college counsel. Miss

(continued next page)

Randall C. Deike

Kay E. Stephenson

Stephenson is responsible for planning, implementing and maintaining a planned giving program for the college. This includes research, promotion and program development. She will also serve as a resident legal counselor to the college.

Miss Stephenson holds a B.A. degree cum laude in Russian and classical languages and literature and a M.A. degree in Russian literature, both from Vanderbilt University. In addition she holds a J.D. degree from the Vanderbilt School of Law. Prior to coming to Juniata, she was an associate with a Washington, D.C. law firm, specializing in estate planning.

A new director of development, Charles E. Kensinger '72, also was appointed to the administration. Kensinger will work with the vice president for college advancement, Dr. Clayton N. Pheasant '65, in the planning and conduct of the college's development program, including the current Century II Campaign.

Kensinger holds an M.Ed. in educational administration from the Pennsylvania State University. He was an elementary school principal in the Spring Cove School District, Martinsburg, before joining the Juniata administration.

Marjorie J. Love '80 was appointed director of the annual support fund. She will be in charge of the college's Annual Support Fund (ASF), with this year's goal set at $275,000. This will include directing class fund agents and other ASF volunteers. Miss Love will continue to serve the college as assistant director of alumni relations, a post she has held since joining the Juniata administration in 1983. □

Charles E. Kensinger '72

FACULTY AND STAFF

NANCY J. LATIMORE, assistant director of athletics, has been elected assistant executive director of the Middle Atlantic Conference (MAC). In addition, she has been appointed to a second consecutive three-year term on the NCAA Division III Women's Basketball Committee.

JOSE C. NIETO, Mary S. Geiger Professor of Religion and professor of history, was invited to the Universidad Iberoamericana in Mexico City in August where he delivered a series of seminars entitled "Experience as Literary Epistemology." In addition, he gave two lectures on the Spanish Reformation at the Presbyterian Theological Seminary in Mexico City. His visit was sponsored by the United States Information Agency's Bureau of Educational and Cultural Affairs. During the fall, Nieto taught two courses at McCormick Theological Seminary in Chicago.

J. PETER TREXLER, professor of geology, returned to Juniata in July after spending three months teaching and conducting research at the University of Edinburgh. While in Scotland, Trexler had an opportunity to work with some of the greatest paleontologists in the world and visit classic geological sites. Many of those sites were used by 18th century geologist James Hutton, known as the father of modern geology.

GAYLE (WAMPLER '68) KREIDER, dean of admissions, has been named president of the Pennsylvania Association of College Admissions Counselors. Ms. Kreider assumed her post at the organization's annual conference.

During the summer, JACK G. TROY, assistant professor of art, taught workshops at the Arrowmont School of Crafts, Gatlinburg, Tenn.; Mendocino Arts Center, Mendocino, Calif.; Pottery Northwest, Seattle, Wash.; and Clayfolk, Talent, Ore. He also held a one-man show at the Rogue Gallery in Medford, Ore. One of Troy's large wood-fired stoneware bowls has been purchased by the Arrowmont School for its permanent collection.

As a result of a grant from the National Science Foundation, JAMES L. GOOCH, professor of biology, and DOUGLAS S. GLAZIER, associate professor of biology, began work on a project investigating the ecology of limestone springs. With assistance from TIMOTHY A. LACY '85 and DONNA F. MYERS '85, the two spent a great deal of time searching for and examining the ecology of hidden springs in central Pennsylvania.

(continued next page)

The Journal of the American College and Personnel Association has accepted for publication a manuscript entitled "A New Approach to the Co-Curricular Transcript," written by ARNOLD J. TILDEN, JR., vice president and dean of student services. The article will appear in the September, 1985 issue of the Journal.

DUANE F. STROMAN, professor of sociology, has recently been appointed to serve on the Keystone Health System Agency's Facilities and Services Task Force. The group has been assigned to oversee the implementation and measure the impact of using prospective payments to hospitals for Medicare patients.

BARBARA M. ROWE, director of personnel services, was among the representatives from the Hemlock Girl Scout Council who attended the triennial National Council Session held this fall in Detroit. Mrs. Rowe is vice president of the Hemlock Council.

THOMAS J. BALDINO, assistant professor of political science, has been elected to a three-year term on the governing board for the Central Pennsylvania Chapter, American Civil Liberties Union. He also is serving as vice president of the board. In January, Baldino was invited to participate in a one-day conference on legislative procedures and rules sponsored by the state Legislative Office of Research and Liaison. The participants included state legislators, members of legislative staffs and educators.

PRESIDENT FREDERICK M. BINDER delivered the keynote address at the annual Family Day Convocation at Mount Aloysius Junior College, Cresson, Oct. 13. Dr. Binder's lecture, "1984, the Orwellian Year," focused on the growing importance of higher education and the role of the family in encouraging learning.

Bangladesh, a New Nation in an Old Setting, is the title and subject of a new book written by CRAIG BAXTER, professor of politics and history. In the book, Baxter describes and analyzes the background, present regime and future of Bangladesh as an independent nation. A Foreign Service officer from 1956-80, Baxter served as political counselor with the U.S. Embassy in Dacca, Bangladesh for several years.

---

STUDENTS

---

Thirty-two members of this year's freshman class have been designated "prestige scholars" for 1984-85, and were awarded the Richard M. Simpson, Brumbaugh-Ellis Presidential and Alumni Annual Support Fund scholarships.

The recipient of this year's Simpson Scholarship is JAMES R. SMITH of Leighton.

Brumbaugh-Ellis Presidential Scholarships were awarded to the following seven freshmen: DAVID L. ACKER of Lewistown, MARY C. CARLISLE of Ebensburg, CHRISTINE KLEINFELDER of Bristol, TODD C. MULLEN of Fairless Hills, KRISTEN A. STEPHEN of Pittsburgh, JENNIFER D. WADE of Leighton and MARY E. WHITE of Coatesville.

Alumni Annual Support Fund Scholarships were awarded to 24 freshmen. They are: MARTHA L. BAGWELL of Catonsville, Md., CHRISTOPHER P. CARNEY of Baldwin, Md., JOHN S. CAVANAUGH of McVeytown, KAREN D. D'ANGELO of Latrobe, FARLEY V. FERRANTE of Windber, ROBERT C. FERRY of Roaring Spring, PAUL GRANGER of Hazleton, SUSAN E. GRUBB of Elizabethtown, MARK N. HEINLY of Bloomsburg, BRIAN J. KOPP of Hollidaysburg, AMY R. LANE of Osceola Mills and MARY JO LETCHER of Pottsville.

Also, JODIE E. MONGER of Lancaster, GINA R. MUMMERT of Spring Grove, DEBRA L. OLLINGER of Altoona, AVRIL L. OPINANTE of Bayport, N.Y., GREGORY S. PATTON of Tyrone, MAUREEN A. PETERS of Whitney Point, N.Y., MELISSA A. RODERICK of York, TERRY G.

SEIPLE of Bloomsburg, JOHN R. SEVICK of Pennsylvania Furnace, DAVID C. SMITH of Harrisburg, CHRISTINE M. VAN WYK of Johnstown and KAREN L. WHITEFIELD of Harleysville.

Twenty-four seniors and five juniors have been selected for the 1985 edition of Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges in recognition of their outstanding leadership, academic achievement and service to the community.

The seniors are: T. GLEN BOUDER of Bethlehem, JULIE A. BUCKLEY of Doylestown, JOHN S. BURR of Hopewell, TODD A. BUSH of Martinsburg, CAROLYN L. CLEARY of King of Prussia, RICHARD C. COLLIER of Lancaster, NANCY M. DODGE of Harrisburg, MARGARET E.

(continued page 19)

Century II Campaign

PHASE TWO Gets Underway

The Juniata College Board of Trustees took the occasion of its fall trustee meeting, Oct. 19-20, to announce the start of the Century II Campaign's second phase. Trustee Chairman Charles C. Ellis '40, President Frederick M. Binder, and General Chairman Joseph R. Good '33 made the formal public announcement at an early afternoon press conference on Oct. 19 which attracted coverage from major central Pennsylvania media.

Later that evening, the trustees hosted a kickoff dinner for members of the Juniata College and Juniata Valley communities at which the structure and goals of PHASE TWO were unveiled. Dr. Ellis cited the campaign as "one of those occasions when the Board of Trustees has stepped beyond its normal procedures of governance and determined a course of action to ensure Juniata's well-being and excellence in a long-term perspective." PHASE TWO Honorary Chairman Vincent Sarni pointed up Juniata's readiness for the campaign, noting that "Juniata has worked diligently for the opportunity that now awaits it. The College is not only well prepared but deserving of this opportunity and the challenge that accompanies it."

Dr. Good emphasized the campaign's focus on enhanced excellence, the fact that the campaign would be directed "not to any shortcomings, but to the college's strengths, its academic programs." Dr. Binder delivered the concluding remarks, pointing out that PHASE TWO represents a rare opportunity for Juniata, one that does not come to every college, to direct much of its efforts and resources to enhanced educational excellence.

(continued next page)

Joseph R. Good '33, general chairman of PHASE TWO of the Century II Campaign and vice chairman of the college's Board of Trustees, announces the beginning of PHASE TWO at a press conference Oct. 19. Also participating in the press conference were Dr. Frederick M. Binder (left), Juniata president, and Dr. Charles C. Ellis '40 (right), chairman of the college's Board of Trustees. Following the press conference, hundreds of Juniata alumni and friends attended a special kick-off reception and dinner.

More than 200 guests at the dinner heard representatives from Juniata's various constituencies offer their views on the campaign and its importance to the college's future. Speakers included: Henry Gibbel '57, General Chairman for PHASE ONE; James Reid '66, Alumni Council; Dr. Craig Baxter, campus community; and Betty Simpson '49, Juniata Valley community. □

Commitments Give Boost to Campaign

Although PHASE TWO was announced publicly in October, commitments have been received by the college since the close of the first phase in early summer. Two major matching grants and other smaller grants and bequests have gotten PHASE TWO off to a fast start. Among the major commitments are:

- ** $250,000 — Pew Memorial Trust, Philadelphia (two-year matching grant for the computerization program);
- ** $150,000 — Whitaker Foundation, Camp Hill (three-year, one-for-two matching grant for scientific equipment);
- ** $15,000 — Charles A. Frueauff Foundation, Inc., New York — (grant for computerization program);
- ** $10,000 — Arcadia Foundation, Norristown (grant for bibliographical study of the Cassel-Brumbaugh-Swigart Collection in the L.A. Beeghly Library).

As always, Juniata's Board of Trustees has accepted the leadership role in the campaign, with several members already having made commitments totaling $200,000 to PHASE TWO.

In addition to these grants and gifts, Juniata College has also received five major estate bequests totaling $76,000, which will be directed to PHASE TWO goals.

College trustees Elmer Grant and Betty Simpson discuss the upcoming PHASE TWO campaign at the kick-off reception held in Shoemaker Galleries.

The Century II Campaign is a comprehensive, 10-year, $20 million capital development effort launched by Juniata College in 1980 to address its most significant immediate and long-term institutional needs. The campaign's goals were developed by the Board of Trustees after careful consideration of not only the college's primary academic, academic support and physical needs, but of the newly emerging educational needs being dictated by technological and other changes in society and the workplace. The campaign represents, therefore, the college's evaluation of its primary needs to enhance institutional excellence and meet today's new educational challenges.

The Century II Campaign has successfully concluded its first phase, totaling $10 million, which included achievement of its primary goal with construction of the Kennedy Sports + Recreation Center. With the major physical needs of the college complete for the foreseeable future, the campaign's focus now turns exclusively to the two broad areas of academic enrichment and endowment. PHASE TWO calls for $4.8 million to be raised by 1986 in three major areas:

1.) Academic programs and support, including annual giving ($800,000) — Juniata must be adaptable and responsive to today's educational needs. New academic curriculum and programs must be developed, and current ones evaluated and updated to ensure that new and changing needs are addressed. The traditional learning environments of the classroom, laboratory and library remain vital, and new opportunities and settings that enrich the educational experience must be developed. Opportunities for internships, international study, guest lecturers, independent study and research, audio-visual equipment, specialized instructional materials for the natural sciences and fine arts and cooperative academic programs with other institutions all make for an educational experience that is rich and diverse in possibilities.

2.) Endowment for academic purposes and scholarship assistance programs ($2,500,000) — One sure mark of a college's strength is its endowment, a vital resource which provides an extra measure of financial flexibility. Increased endowment for academic purposes will address a wide range of needs in programs, faculty development and facilities.

For example, Juniata seeks endowment support for a visiting executives program whereby corporate and public sector leaders would be in residence at the college over several days to lecture, meet with students and faculty, and bring a marketplace perspective to classroom theory. A faculty internship program, on the other hand, would enable faculty to work for all or part of a year in a setting related to their discipline, providing them with a practical experience with which to enrich their classroom teaching.

Juniata also seeks endowment support for a Peace and Conflict

Studies (PACS) Institute, which would accentuate the college's national prominence in PACS. Other academic endowment needs include distinguished faculty chairs, funds for academic departments and facilities, guest lectureships, supported professorships and summer research opportunities for faculty and students.

Juniata has a strong and long-standing institutional commitment to providing abundant levels of student financial aid. In addition to state and federal programs, the college makes a sizeable commitment in institutional funds each year for scholarship assistance. Over 80 percent of Juniata's students qualify for some level of aid. As the college seeks to meet the growing demand for financial aid, its institutional resources will be strained. Endowment support will help to keep Juniata financially accessible to a broad student population, and to attract outstanding young scholars who will sustain the college's high standards of excellence and selectivity.

3.) Computerization and Scientific Instrumentation and Equipment ($1,500,000) — Nothing in recent memory better demonstrates the need for responsiveness to newly emerging student needs than the current revolution in information technologies. Not only has computer science become one of Juniata's fastest growing majors, but demand for computer education has increased by some 300 percent in class enrollments in the past five years. About 90 percent of Juniata's students now use computers in at least some phase of their studies.

At Juniata, the enhancement of computer capabilities took the form of a more than $1 million capital commitment to renovate and expand the computer center, increase terminal locations around the campus and acquire a new computer that accommodates increasing computer usage campus-wide. The new Digital VAX 11/780 computer has more than doubled the capacity for simultaneous computer usage and enhanced user efficiency with greatly reduced response time. Moreover, the new computer has opened the way for greater operational efficiency through full computerization of the college's administrative systems.

(continued next page)

Pictured at the PHASE TWO kick-off reception are (left to right) Barbara Croner, Cyrus O. Caulton '29 and Charles C. Ellis '40.

The college has received a $250,000 matching grant for computer applications from the Pew Memorial Trust and now seeks additional support to satisfy terms of the match and recover its original expenditure.

While Juniata College is fortunate to possess modern academic facilities, the many new technological advances, particularly in the natural sciences, make it imperative that classrooms and laboratories offer the most up-to-date scientific instrumentation and equipment available. Juniata has received a $150,000 one-for-two matching grant for scientific equipment needs from the Whitaker Foundation and now seeks additional support to satisfy terms of the match, as well as additional funds to ensure that its outstanding programs and facilities in the natural sciences keep pace with technological advances and preserve their vitality and excellence. □

College Trustees Chair Campaign Committees

Twelve members of the Juniata College Board of Trustees will provide the direction for PHASE TWO of the Century II Campaign as members of the leadership committee. The committee is structured according to the areas of responsibilities in the campaign. The members are:

Chairman, Board of Trustees:

Charles C. Ellis '40
Distinguished Lecturer
Georgetown University School of Business Administration

President of the College

Frederick M. Binder

Honorary Chairman:

Vincent A. Sarni
Chairman and Chief Executive Officer
PPG Industries, Inc.

General Chairman:

Joseph R. Good '33
Chairman, Emeritus
Hollidaysburg Trust Company

Major Gifts Chairman:

Edwin A. Malloy
President
Fred F. French Company

Church Gifts Chairman:

C. Wesley Lingenfelter '55
Vice President
New Enterprise Stone and Lime
Company

Campus Gifts Chairman:

W. Newton Long, Jr. '40
Professor of Obstetrics and Gynecology
Emory University School of Medicine

Planned Gifts Chairman:

W. Clay Burkholder '35
Retired Executive Director
Tuscarora Intermediate Unit 11

Alumni Gifts Chairman:

Garry L. Pote '68
Senior Vice President
Banque de Nationale de Paris

Juniata Valley Gifts Chairwoman:

Betty F. Simpson '49
Vice President and Co-owner
Allegheny Mountain Radio
Network

Trustees Gifts Chairman:

Dale W. Detwiler
Chairman of the Board
New Enterprise Stone and Lime
Company

Foundations/Corporations Gifts Chairman:

George E. Cruser '52
Senior Vice President
Westvaco Corporation

Parents Gifts Chairman:

Charles C. Brown, Jr. '59
President Judge
49th Judicial District of Pennsylvania □

Following the kick-off dinner, the various PHASE TWO gift committees met to discuss the campaign. Members of the Church Gifts Committee include (left to right) trustees Donovan R. Beachley, Jr. '47, C. Wesley Lingenfelter '55, Henry H. Gibbel '57, James S. Clemens and Dorothy L. Hershberger '50, director of alumni and church relations.

EVANS of Murrysville, DOUGLAS C. FLEMING of Tyrone, ELIZABETH A. GALLAGHER of Harleysville, LAURA E. KEAT of York and PATRICIA A. KIRKSEY of Wyckoff, N.J.

Also, PAULA M. MC CARTHY of Morris Plains, N.J., DAVID O. MOORE of Avalon, N.J., RICHARD W. MROSKY Of

Armagh, ELIZABETH H. PEIRIE of Ambler, LINDA C. RAMSAY of Exton, CHRISTINE E. SCHLEIDEN of Peoria, Ill., LORI A. SMITH of Manheim, CARL A. SOLOMON of Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., LORI A. SWIVEL of Carlisle, BETTINA L. TWEARDY of Abbottstown, KEVIN M. WELCH

of Centre Hall and BETH M. YASKOVICH of Harrisburg

The juniors are: ELIZABETH D. ESH of Belleville, CHERYL E. KIMBROUGH of Lansing, Ill., VIRGINIA A. KRALL of Ephrata, REBECCA S. MILLER of Hollsopple and DAVID A. PETERS of York.

VISITORS

The 1984-85 Artist Series opened in September with a performance by mime TRENT ARTERBERRY, followed in October by the AMERICAN BALLET THEATRE II. In January, the EDER STRING QUARTET from Hungary performed in Oller Hall.

The last two performances in the 1984-85 series feature folk singer DOC WATSON on March 26 and THE GORDONS piano-duo on April 17.

British producer and director, DR. JONATHAN MILLER visited the Juniata campus in September and delivered an entertaining lecture on "Laughing Matters: Humor and Comedy." Dr. Miller, who has produced and directed numerous Shakespearian productions, is best known for the successful BBC series on the history of medicine, The Body in Question.

The World Affairs Lecture Series, sponsored by the political science department and the Peace and Conflict Studies Committee, has brought several interesting speakers to campus this year, including HERMANN F. EILTS, former U.S. Ambassador to Egypt and Saudi Arabia, and RODRIGO CARAZO ODIO, former president of Costa Rica (see separate stories).

Other speakers have included JOHN GADDIS, professor of history at Ohio University, and

A.M.A. MUHITH, former finance minister of Bangladesh.

The World Affairs Lecture Series is supported by the John C. and Elizabeth E. Baker Endowment, the Sedgley Thornbury Lectureship and the William G. and Mary A. Nyce Lectureship.

REV. JOHN R. RODLAND '61 returned to Juniata in October to present a recital on the college's Moller organ. Rodland is currently minister of music at the West Side Presbyterian Church in Ridgewood, N.J.

Rodrigo Carazo Odio, former president of Costa Rica, discusses Central American issues with Dr. Frederick M. Binder (left) and the Rev. Dr. M. Andrew Murray (right), campus minister.

SPORTS

Volleyball Team Shines Again

By Joseph M. Scialabba '86

The 1984 Juniata College women's volleyball team finished the season with a 49-6 record, the best in the squad's history.

The Indians, under eighth-year Coach Larry Bock and assistant Sue Barker '83, were the number one NCAA Division III team in the nation at the end of the regular season. The number-one seeded Tribe advanced to the NCAA National Tournament quarterfinals before losing to the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, three games to two.

"We had an extremely successful season," said Bock. "We were disappointed that we didn't go further in the national tournament, but we have nothing to be ashamed of. We lost to a very good MIT team."

The Tribe was led this season by three outstanding seniors: Tracey DeBlase, Peggy Evans and second-team All-American Ekanong Opanayikul.

"They are terrific," praised Bock. "They are the people that have helped make our program one of the best around, in any division. They have done a lot for this team both on and off the court. They also have done much more than just play volleyball. They have been successful people, not just athletes, at Juniata College."

DeBlase was selected the team's Most Valuable Player last season and has served the last two years as co-captain with Evans, an All-Middle Atlantic Conference selection in 1983 and 1984.

Opanayikul was selected All-MAC for a third consecutive time this past fall, to go along with her All-American status.

With this senior leadership to build on, Bock produced a fourth consecutive MAC championship team. The Tribe swept through the conference regular season undefeated and took the tournament title with a 3-0 win over Gettysburg.

"The MAC title was once again a great accomplishment," said Bock. "It is just another example of the leadership we have had. Our three seniors, Tracey, Peggy and Eing, won MAC titles all four years they were here at Juniata, and any success that we've enjoyed and any success we will enjoy in the future, will be due in part to them. The depth of our gratitude to these women is very great."

(continued next page)

Sophomore Mariella Gacka winds for the spike as senior All-American Ekanong Opanayikul (11) and freshman Cathy Miller (hidden) prepare to defend. The Indian volleyball team finished sixth in the nation after a fine 49-6 season.

Tournaments were good to the Indians throughout the season with Juniata taking five championship trophies, including first place finishes at the Mansfield University, Mountaineer Invitational, the Juniata Classic Invitational, the Eastern Connecticut State Invitational, the Juniata College Indian Invitational and the MAC Championships. The Tribe was runner-up in the U.S. Naval Academy Invitational, losing to Villanova in the finals.

Of Juniata's six losses, only two came to Division III opponents — Illinois Benedictine and MIT. The Tribe's other defeats were at the hands of Division I teams West Virginia, Marquette and Villanova, plus Loyola, a Division II team.

"We played a tough schedule," said Bock, "but we want to make it tougher. We want to play good teams, and to do that we must face Division I schools and travel to tough small college tournaments. To be good, you must play good competition."

A tough schedule will not be a new experience for next year's team. Experience is something that Juniata has thrived on in past years, and the future looks to be similar.

The Tribe will return sophomore starters Mariella Gacka and Carolyn Stambaugh along with freshman Cathy Miller. Sophomore Lori Bason is also a seasoned veteran, with freshmen Beth Hoppel and Jodi Cox, the recipients of valuable playing time this season, ready to step into the lineup.

Junior defensive specialist Dorene Duncan, sophomore Diana Hauger and freshmen Brenda Heiland and Robin Urban also give Bock a lot to look forward to next season. "We will be playing privately sponsored USVBA games this winter," explained Bock. "We will be in tournaments all over the East and work a very extensive weight program. Everyone is involved, so we will know a lot after this winter.

"People may think our program will suffer now, but we have a few surprises down the road. We have some good, good people that have yet to show what they can do. We are already very excited about next year."

This season was highlighted by a 33-match win streak, which included an undefeated month of October and only two 15-point losses. The Indians also won 10 straight matches to open the season.

"They made themselves a good volleyball team by working hard and being dedicated," concluded Bock. "They were the hardest working team I've ever had. It was a terrific season."

Bock, who is 252-54 since starting the JC varsity program in 1977, added that this year's team effort and success will be hard to beat. But, he says that every year.

Editor's Note: Joseph M. Scialabba, a media communications and writing major, is a student assistant in the public relations office, working with the sports information program.

New Faces Dominate J.C. Winter Sports

The 1984-85 winter sports season on College Hill has been one of "new looks" with the women's basketball team stepping into the spotlight with an exciting blend of veterans and freshmen talent.

Coach Nancy Latimore, now in her eighth season, has relied upon a nucleus of experienced players: seniors Patti Ryan and Holly Crable and junior Karen Fonner. Ryan and Crable were the team's top two scorers a year ago while Fonner led the team in assists.

(continued next page)

Senior center Mark Rucinski (44) grabs another Indian rebound. The Little All-American candidate could become the school's first career 1,000 point-1,000 rebound player.

Freshman Jodi Cox, Sue Grubb, Alexia Marks and Karen Ramm have all started off their collegiate careers in impressive fashion. Sophomore Janet Robison, a transfer from Penn State, and classmate Becky Hostetter also have been a key part of this season's squad.

"Any success we've enjoyed has been due to the fact that we have learned to work together as a team," said Latimore. "Our young players have worked hard to adjust to the college game, and our upperclassmen have continued to improve and lead the team."

Fourth-year coach Dan Helm has faced a familiar problem with his 1984-85 Juniata men's team: a slow start.

"We seem to do the same thing every year," said Helm, "Struggle early and then improve, but not until we are in a big hole. It's unfortunate because we've lost a lot of games due only to a few bad minutes. Basically, we've played pretty well."

Senior center Mark Rucinski has once again played a key role for the Indians. The 6'8 Little All-American candidate scored his 1,000th career point against Lycoming in the season opener and will most likely finish the season as the school's first 1,000 point/1,000 rebound player.

Junior forward Dick Moses has once again been a consistent outside threat, with opposite forward Carlton Rodgers, a freshman, also becoming a consistent scorer. Junior John Hunter has also become a very solid inside player.

The "new look" of the Indians has been a very quick and flashy backcourt, led by junior transfer Eric Lane. Freshmen Wayne Paul and Marty Neitz have shown an exciting playing style, with senior Doug Fleming and junior Scott Cole displaying the poise of experienced floor leaders.

Veteran coach Bill Berrier '60 faced a similar slow start with his latest edition of the Juniata wrestling team. The tough beginning, however, was basically due to injuries.

Senior Academic All-American Rick Noll (134) missed much of December due to an elbow injury. The team captain, Noll had an outstanding 19-5 record last season.

Sophomore Bill Hinchman, a 167-pounder, was also the victim of an early season injury. He went down with a separated shoulder.

"We've been strongest in the middle weights," said Berrier. "Injuries have been a problem since we are very young from top-to-bottom."

Seniors Charles Schechterly (126), Al Kreuzburg (142), Chris Ernest and Randy Smith (177) have been relied upon to lead the team, which has been gaining valuable experience with each week of the season.

Sophomore Chris Frew (35) scored two Juniata points as teammate Allan Reyes (left) and freshman Kevin Feagins (right) look on.

CLASS NOTES

Item (attach additional sheet if necessary):

Juniata is always looking for news of its alumni: promotions, degrees, job changes, honors, marriages, births, etc. Even an address change. If you fit the bill — or would like to report on a friend — please complete this form and return it to the office of Alumni Affairs. We encourage you to send photos (black and white) with your news.

Name	Class	Spouse's Name	Class
Address	City	State	Zip

30

Rev. Bernard N. King '30 and wife, Ella, celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary on July 6, 1984. They reside in York, Pa.

32

Dr. Paul M. Bechtel of Wheaton, Ill., presented his new book, Wheaton College — A Heritage Remembered at the College's 125th anniversary year celebration.

35

50th Reunion:
May 31-June 2, 1985

37

Miriam Wolf Bauer of York, Pa., retired from teaching and now enjoys traveling and many activities.

38

Dr. Philip Jerome Hahn of Youngstown, Ohio, retired in December, 1983 from Youngstown State University; however, he is still teaching one quarter per year until age 70 as professor emeritus of economics.

39

Gerald Barker of Williamsburg, Pa., is currently with J.B. Tree Farm. He is also an active participant in the Pennsylvania Christmas Tree Growers Association, the Altoona Symphony Orchestra, and the Experimental Aircraft Association.

40

45th Reunion:
May 31-June 2, 1985

W. George Reigner of Wallingford, Pa., was inducted into the Delaware County Sports Hall of Fame.

41

Benjamin F. Waltz, Jr. of Philadelphia, Pa., retired at the end of April, 1984.

44

Rev. Clarence Chubb and wife, Alice, celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary on July 21, 1984. They reside in Red Lion, Pa.

and is running a beef operation in Alexandria, Pa. Nancy (Vaughn) Kyper '54 is in her 30th year of teaching, 23 years of these at Juniata Valley.

50

35th Reunion:
May 31-June 2, 1985

Robert H. Stein of Uniontown, Pa., is vice president and cashier of Gallatin Bank. He has been assigned the responsibility of business development.

52

Rev. Donald H. Treese of Nashville, Tenn., has been nominated for Bishop in the Methodist Church.

North New Jersey — New York Area Alumni Club

The home of Edgar and June DeBolt '27 was the setting for a luncheon get together on Nov. 10, before the Upsala game. All enjoyed a "neat" time of reminiscing about good times that spanned several generations of Juniata.

45

40th Reunion:
May 31-June 2, 1985

Barbara A. Boyd of Summit, N.J., is involved in a disciple training course entitled, "Bible and Life with the Ministry in Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship."

49

Bernard A. Kyper has retired from teaching

55

30th Reunion:
May 31-June 2, 1985

Phyllis Natale DeCato of Ashtabula, Ohio, has joined a research group at Diamond Shamrock Chemicals Company in Painesville, Ohio.

Joseph Hinish of Martinsburg, Pa., has achieved the professional designation of Certified Financial Planner. He is affiliated with IDS/American Express.

56

Joyce West of Carlisle, Pa., became the 61st state auxiliary president of the Luzerne County Medical Society Auxiliary.

Alma Skinner Ryan of Dayton, Ohio, reports that she and her husband, Arthur, are looking forward to spending their retirement in the historic Upper Dayton View.

58

Philip M. Stefanni of Medford, N.J., was appointed chairman of the pacesetter division of the 1985 United Way campaign in Bucks County.

59

Kathryn Holsinger Ott of Bethlehem, Pa., has begun her fifth year as a computer programmer at Bethlehem Steel Corp.

Joseph P. Senft of Emmaus, Pa., is a biology teacher at Upper School.

60

25th Reunion:
May 31-June 2, 1985

61

Dr. Carol F. Whitfield of Harrisburg, Pa., has been appointed associate professor in the Department of Physiology at the Milton S. Hershey Medical Center of The Pennsylvania State University.

62

Dr. David E. Henrie of Huntingdon, Pa., is currently working with the Con-Rail Technical Services Laboratory in Altoona.

Peggy Howsare Young of Potomac, Md., was named vice president of Technical Resources, Inc.

63

Robert A. Freed of Lansdale, Pa., has been promoted to sergeant of police for Upper Gwynedd Township in Montgomery County. Robert has published an article entitled, "Radio Frequency Interference with the Model 1000 SA Alco-Analyzer Gas,

Philadelphia/Southern New Jersey Area Alumni Club

Alumni, friends and parents enjoyed a pre-game brunch at the Wilmington Hilton on Sept. 22. Dr. and Mrs. Frederick M. Binder were on hand to greet this enthusiastic group, as well as Coach Rob Ash who briefed them on the Widener football game.

Chromatograph," which appeared in the October 1983 issue of the Journal of Forensic Sciences.

65

20th Reunion:
May 31-June 2, 1985

W. Joel Simpson of Germantown, Tenn., has received the 1984 Food Industry Sanitation Award.

Rev. Janet K. Hess of Tremont, Pa., has been ordained a deacon in the Tremont United Methodist Church.

Dr. James W. Scott of Annville, Pa., attended a seminar in Leipzig, East Germany for college teachers of German.

66

Barbara Heyderhoff Engelbart of Pompton Plains, N.J., is Director of the Associated Churches of Pequannock and Lincoln Park communities in New Jersey.

Thomas D. Snyder is owner/innkeeper of a bed and breakfast inn, The Manor House, in Cape May, N.J.

Susan J. Riddle of Mount Joy, Pa., was named managing editor with the Continental Press, Inc.

67

J. Robert Gray Jr. of Jackson, Ohio, is minister of the First United Presbyterian Church and moderator of Presbytery of Scioto Valley's Resource Center in Jackson.

Robert L. Pascale of Shippensburg, Pa., is currently director of elementary schools.

68

Alice Hockenberry Woodring of Lewistown, Pa., graduated from the American College in Bryn Mawr, earning the Chartered Underwriter designation.

Douglas R. Quick of Roanoke, Va., is vice president of Johnson and Higgins. He also became head of the Employee Benefits Department in Roanoke.

69

Dr. Dennis C. Graham of Haddon Heights, N.J., has been included in Philadelphia Magazine's listing of "The Best Doctors in Town." Dr. Graham is chairman of neurology of The Osteopathic Medical Center of Philadelphia.

Margaret McLean Johnson of Gardner, Mass., is currently working at the Gardner-Athol Area Mental Health Associates.

Central Pennsylvania Alumni Club

The home of James and Diane Reid '66 was the setting for a lovely holiday social gathering on Dec. 20. Jim, who is currently president of the National Alumni Association, along with his wife, Diane, and their three daughters most graciously hosted this event for the Central Pennsylvania Alumni Club. Thank you to the Reids!

William J. Kauffman of Lititz, Pa., has been promoted to research unit manager for physical standards at Armstrong World Industries.

Sandie (Baer) Osborne of Honolulu, Hawaii, is a communications specialist at Community Relations Hawaii Service Association. Her husband, Dr. Larry N. Osborne '70, is a professor at the University of Hawaii at Manoa.

70

15th Reunion:
May 31-June 2, 1985

Donald H. Barrett from Tyrone, Pa., has been promoted to the rank of Commander in the U.S. Navy.

Mary Ellen Buckley of Ridgefield, Conn., received her master's degree in public administration/government from Pace University in White Plains, N.Y.

Ann Reganis-Reber of Mohaton, Pa., is a technical trainer at AT&T Technologies in Reading, Pa. Also, Ann is on the Board of Directors of the "Flying Dutchman Ski Club" and an advisor for Skiing Explorer Post 483.

Huntingdon Area Alumni Club

On Saturday, Dec. 1, the Huntingdon Area, Blair/Bedford, Kishacoquillas, and Centre alumni clubs gathered in the Gibbel Lobby of the Kennedy Sports + Recreation Center immediately following the Juniata vs. M.I.T. women's volleyball match to show their appreciation for the many thrills and excitement shown to us by the Lady Indians this year.

71

Dr. J. Michael Keller of Mt. Gretna, Pa., received certification as a diplomate of the American Board of Emergency Medicine.

Daniel Deal of San Francisco, Calif., has been appointed assistant vice president with Banque de Nationale de Paris.

Marsha Wakefield Madel of Charlottesville, Va., received her master's degree in counseling from the University of Virginia.

Debra Winters Shafer of State College, Pa., attended a Class of '71 mini-reunion held June 9 & 10 at the home of Margie (Biss) Behnke. Other '71 grads in attendance were Cindy (Pile) Horn, Dottie Huss, Cindy McKinney and Kathy (Papa) Owens.

72

Frederick T. Murphy of Suffern, N.Y., has been promoted to manufacturing manager of Materials Research Corp. in Orangeburg, N.Y.

Dr. Kathleen Ney Hey of Lancaster, Pa., was appointed assistant professor of biology at Franklin & Marshall College.

Deane (Reklis) McAlpine of Harrisburg, Pa., held a Class of '72 mini-reunion in October at her home. Other '72 grads in attendance were Susan (Dobson) Hair, Barbara (Hunt) Wynn, Mary (Albrittain) Steever, Ginny (Myers) Sipple, and Terri (Burson) Eline.

73

Capt. K. David Bombaugh of Brandon, Fla., is under assignment with United States Central Command.

Dr. John L. Runyon of Bloomsburg, Pa., was recently elected a Fellow of the American Academy of Family Practice at the 36th annual A.A.F.P. Convention in Kansas City, Mo.

74

Dr. Stephen M. Sachs of Hagerstown, Md., was named an associate in general and vascular surgery at the Hagerstown Surgical Clinic in Hagerstown.

Daniel C. Herzog of Newark, N.J., has been included in the 1984 Edition of the International Who's Who in Sexology.

Dr. Michael J. Klag of Baltimore, Md., is

Philadelphia Alumni Club

On the evening of Dec. 19, members and guests of the Philadelphia Alumni Club welcomed the holidays during a social gathering in the home of Cy and Isabel Caulton '29-'29 in Bryn Mawr. Once again, the Caultons, with their warmth and never ending hospitality, made this occasion very special for our alumni.

currently employed at Johns Hopkins University and has been awarded an Epidemiology Fellowship. He plans to pursue Academic Medicine.

Craighton D. Mauk of Orlando, Fla., is a faculty member in the Fruit Crop Dept. at the University of Florida and a research associate with the U.S. Dept of Agriculture.

75

10th Reunion:
May 31-June 2, 1985

Janice Nolan Crouthamel of Chandler, Ariz., is working as a part-time special interest instructor for the Chandler Parks and Recreation Pre-School Program.

Keith L. Jones of Bala-Cynwyd, Pa., has been appointed manager of Corporate Accounting at Comcast Corporation.

76

Jeffrey J. Wood, Esq., has established his law office in Slippery Rock, Pa.

Deborah A. Worrall of Malvern, Pa., is a project manager with Users, Inc.

Sam Sirianni of Long Branch, N.J., was ordained a priest on Nov. 10.

77

Daniel T. Novak of Cresson, Pa., has graduated from the School of Dentistry of the University of Pittsburgh.

Cpl. Robert G. Smith of Copperas Cove, Tex., has been accepted at the Officer's Candidate School at Fort Benning, Ga. Upon graduation, he will become a second lieutenant in the U.S. Army.

Jonathan P. Streich of Helena, Ga., has completed his master's degree in parks and recreation management from The Pennsylvania State University. He is employed as a region naturalist for the state of Georgia's Department of Natural Resources.

Mardi M. Frye of Ithaca, N.Y., has accepted a position as director of Ecology House at Cornell University.

Ellen S. Wallace, Esq., opened her law office in Tyrone, Pa.

78

Christopher P. Barr of Harleysville, Pa., has been appointed a trial attorney for the Harleysville Insurance Companies.

Susan R. Baney of New Cumberland, Pa., is working as personnel supervisor for the Pennsylvania State Lottery.

Joy (Akerman) Hentschel of Milltown, N.J., was second in the state of New Jersey for Yellow Pages sales.

Christopher S. Hart of Rosemont, Pa., is manager of the Cokesbury Bookstore in King of Prussia.

Stephen H. Rossi of Kennett Square, Pa., has been appointed social studies teacher at Avon Grove School District.

Thomas R. Irwin of Lakewood, Colo., is a computer systems analyst with Schulemberger Well Service.

David M. Shober of Memphis, Tenn., is a pilot for American Airlines based in Dallas, Tex.

79

Katrina M. Boverman of Greenbelt, Md., has received her master of social work degree and certificate of aging from the University of Maryland.

Dave Robinson and Tricia (Thompson) '80 have moved to Ruston, La. Dave is an associate professor of economics at Louisiana Tech University and Tricia is a certified public accountant for the firm of R.E. Holladay, C.P.A.

Blair/Bedford Alumni Club

The annual Blair/Bedford Alumni Club picnic was held on Saturday afternoon, Aug. 18, at the summer home of Jane and Joe Good '33. Amidst the beautiful blue skies and surroundings of New Enterprise, many faculty, staff, administrators and friends enjoyed an afternoon of swimming, shuffleboard, fishing and volleyball. John Stultz '69, who is currently president of the Blair/Bedford Alumni Club, helped to coordinate this gathering with the Goods. We extend our appreciation to Jane and Joe for allowing us to make this an enjoyable event for all!

Carol (Eichelberger) VanHorn of Fayetteville, Pa., joined the law firm of Maxwell, Maxwell and Dick.

Stephen J. Hardy, D.O., formerly of Newton Hamilton, Pa., joined the staff at Millcreek Community Hospital as emergency room physician.

Dr. Susan B. Hainley of Bedford, Pa., is with the U.S. Army as a physician in Bad Kissingen, West Germany.

Martin R. Howe of Downingtown, Pa., received his master's degree in geology from Indiana State University. He is employed as a geologist/hydrogeologist for NUS Corp.

Ronald L. Fugate of New York, N.Y., completed his master's degree in business from Columbia University and was recognized as a recipient of the class service award. His wife, Nora (Muncy), has been promoted to assistant account executive at Trout and Rees Advertising in New York City.

Kim D. Huber of Deptford, N.J., is working as Labor Relations Analyst for ARA Services in Philadelphia.

Dr. Randy L. Kochel of Charleston, S.C., is a family practice resident at the Medical University of South Carolina. His wife, Pamela (Green) '80, is a research specialist at the Medical University of South Carolina.

80

5th Reunion:
May 31-June 2

Marjorie J. Love of Huntingdon, Pa., has been appointed director of the annual support fund along with her present duties as assistant director of alumni relations at Juniata College.

George Meyer of San Francisco, Calif., is employed as a tenant administrator at Milton Meyer & Company.

Kenneth L. Anderson III of Philadelphia, Pa., received his Doctor of Osteopathy degree from Philadelphia College of Osteopathic Medicine.

David T. Bizousky of Philadelphia, Pa., received his medical degree from Hahnemann University of Philadelphia.

James M. Connor of Natrona Heights, Pa., received his master's degree in geology from Temple University. He is working as a geologist with GAI Consultants, Inc., in Monroeville, Pa.

Anthony J. LaGratta and Linda (Hunsicker) '79 of Harleysville, Pa., have opened two franchised stores in the Burlington Center Mall.

Mary Horner Berkebile of Tire Hill, Pa., received her medical degree from Hahnemann Medical College and has begun a three-year residency at Shadyside Hospital in Pittsburgh.

Mindy Anderson of Pittsburgh, Pa., is with the FBI in Pittsburgh. She will be training in Virginia.

Ruth E. Frye of Pottstown, Pa., received her Doctor of Osteopathy degree from Philadelphia College of Osteopathic Medicine.

Mark D. Schellhammer of Philadelphia, Pa., received his Doctor of Osteopathy degree from Philadelphia College of Osteopathic Medicine.

Roger D. Quay has graduated from Gettysburg Seminary. He is a pastor in Southwest, Ohio.

Baltimore Area Alumni Club

Many alumni, parents and friends, all avid fans of the Juniata College women's volleyball team, gathered in Annapolis on Nov. 9 and 10 to extend the "Juniata Spirit" for our lady Indians as they competed in the Forrestal Invitational at the U.S. Naval Academy. The Indians finished second in the tournament.

Robert D. Wallace of San Diego, Calif., received his Doctor of Medicine degree from Jefferson Medical College, Thomas Jefferson University. He plans a surgical residency at the Naval Hospital in San Diego.

Tina M. Eberly of Biscoe, N.C., is teaching a course in human development at Montgomery Technical College in Troy, N.C.

Cheryl A. Ondechek, Esq. of York, Pa., has accepted a position as assistant district attorney for Lancaster County in the appellate division.

Janice Bigelow Webster of California, Md., has accepted a position as a fifth grade teacher in Mechanicsville, Md.

Randall L. Anderson of Jamestown, N.Y., has accepted a position as editor of the Jamestown (N.Y.) Post-Journal newspaper.

Jacob M. Sherk of Elizabethtown, Pa., graduated from Philadelphia College of Pharmacy and Science with a B.S. in pharmacy. He also passed his Pharmacy State Licensure Examination and is a staff pharmacist with Sloan's Pharmacies.

John P. Blasko of Mingeville, Pa., received his juris doctor degree from the Dickinson School of Law.

Jeffrey F. Snyder of Highspire, Pa., is a computer systems analyst for the Office of Administration of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

82

Janine A. Pilon of New Haven, Conn., has graduated from Quinnipiac College with a master's degree in pathology.

John B. DeHaas of Bellefonte, Pa., has been promoted to specialist fourth class in the U.S. Army.

Patricia A. Albertson of Altoona, Pa., is assistant professor of economics and business administration at Juniata College.

Cathy L. Bracciale of Altoona, Pa., was promoted to senior assistant manager for Household Finance Corp.

Steven C. Brown of Newark, Del., received his master's of public administration from the University of Delaware.

Regina (Wood) Pollard of Harrisonburg, Va., received his M.S. in counseling and student personnel services from Drake University. She works at James Madison University as a recruiter for academically gifted students and a financial aid assistant.

Bev Supanik of Bakersfield, Calif., is a teacher and girls' volleyball coach at Omega High School.

Michael J. Ford of Schwenksville, Pa., has been promoted to assistant director of admissions at Ursinus College in Collegeville.

Robert P. Aravich, Jr. of Reading, Pa., was promoted to assistant banking officer in the corporate lending area at American Bank and Trust Company in Reading.

Huntingdon Area Alumni Club

On Tuesday evening, Dec. 18, the administration and staff of Juniata celebrated a "magical" Christmas evening by sponsoring a social hour, dinner and concert for area alumni and friends. The ballroom of Ellis College Center was the setting for this "magical" experience as the advancement staff served a delicious dinner of Beef Tenderloin ala Bordeise Sauce to our many guests and friends. Following the dinner, all guests proceeded to Oller Auditorium to enjoy many traditional Christmas carols and the Gloria by Antonio Vivaldi under the direction of Dr. Joseph W. Figg, assistant professor of music. Karen and Robert Orr '76-'76, co-presidents of the Huntingdon Area Alumni Club, helped to organize this event.

81

Mark E. Cassel of West Chester, Pa., is working for WCOJ in Philadelphia and covering the Philadelphia Eagles and Stars.

Janet K. Willison of Bethlehem, Pa., is teaching chemistry and physics at a secondary school in the Fiji Islands for the Peace Corps.

Cindy Goldstein of Chevy Chase, Md., is a biological technician for a plant physiologist at the Smithsonian Environmental Research Center in Rockville.

James E. McClain, Jr. of Camp Hill, Pa., is an assistant operations officer at the Dauphin Deposit Bank and Trust Co. in Harrisburg.

Patricia J. Cook of Burlington, Vt., received a M.S. degree in counseling from the University of Vermont and is an assistant director of teacher education and programming at Vermont State Correctional Center.

Attorney Beth E. Ammerman of Clearfield, Pa., has received her juris doctor degree from the Dickinson School of Law.

Michael Dennehy, Esq., of Carlisle, Pa., received his juris doctor degree from the Dickinson School of Law.

Steven M. Stroup of Bedford, Pa., accepted a position as account executive in the Cumberland office of Butcher and Singer, Inc.

83

David L. Hostetter of Pittsburgh, Pa., is an organizer for the Thomas Merton Center, a ministry for peace and social justice.

Mary M. Dickson of Cheektowaga, N.Y., is a store manager with B. Dalton Bookseller.

Delaware Reception — Alumni/ Admissions Effort Launched

On Oct. 31, the home of Dr. and Mrs. George Patrick (Janet Peters) '62-'64 in Hockessin, Del. was the setting for an Alumni/ Admissions reception. In addition to enjoying the delicious refreshments prepared by Jan, prospective students and their parents had an opportunity to learn more about Juniata College. What better way for others to learn what Juniata is about than through conversations with our alumni. Thank you to the Patricks for making this possible!

Ralph David Warner of Huntingdon, Pa., has accepted a new position as statement analyst in the commercial loan department of Mellon Bank (Central).

Rocky T. Sliker of Glen Gardner, N.J., has accepted a new position as accountant for Maxi-Sean, Inc.

Thomas A. Owen of Philadelphia, Pa., is working on his Ph.D. in molecular genetics at Temple University Medical School.

George E. Dumpsie of Ridgewood, N.J., has accepted a position as a teacher at Willard School.

Susan M. Cervino of New Milford, N.J., is teaching at Columbus School in Lyndhurst, N.J.

84

Lori A. Mengel of Harrisburg, Pa., is working as a junior research technician in microbiology at the Hershey Medical Center.

Homecoming Reception Highlighted

Among the many features of Homecoming '84 was a special reception with Dr. and Mrs. Binder for all alumni. Richard Mrosky, Lori Swivel, Laura Keat and Deb Waltz, all very talented students, provided the entertainment, and the Detwiler Plaza provided the perfect scene for this reception.

MARRIAGES

Lindsay Nonnye Huddleston '58 and Joseph J. Fanelli, Jr., June 23, 1984, Oakland, CA

Ursula Binggeli and Thomas W. Mears, Jr. '71, May 26, 1984, Montreal, Quebec

Susan Herncane '73 and Walter Gross, July 21, 1984, Accokeek, MD

Debra Spinney '75 and James J. Herlihy, Jr., June 20, 1981, Philadelphia, PA

Judy Kovach and Dr. Richard T. Green '77, July 14, 1984, Jerome, PA

Christina R. Myers '78 and Gary G. Van Hartogh '78, September 8, 1984, Philadelphia, PA

Joan Harper '80 and William Kittleberger '80, June 2, 1984, Philadelphia, PA

Andrea M. Wirth '80 and Kevin Mareello, September 17, 1983, Flourtown, PA

Julia Hawthorne and Dr. John W. Stetovic '80, May 5, 1984, Middletown, PA

Linda A. Fultz '84 and Dana T. Cope '81, June 9, 1984, Lewistown, PA

Karen E. Habiak '81 and William T. Limpert, April 28, 1984, South Brunswick, NJ

Donna L. Shank and Jacob M. Sherk '81, August 18, 1984, Elizabethtown, PA

Orientation Reception

The opening of the academic year at Juniata was highlighted by a reception for alumni parents of incoming freshmen on Sept. 1. Best of luck to these students; we will look forward to the day when they become alumni; have patience, parents!

Andrew K. Kortyna of Middletown, Pa., is attending graduate school studying physics at Wesleyan University.

Burdett R. Porter of Rochester, Minn., is currently attending Mayo Medical School.

Mark Murdoch of Harrisburg, Pa., has accepted a position as accounting specialist and agent at Murdoch Insurance and Investments, Inc.

Henry F. Coyne, Jr., of Camp Hill, Pa., has been appointed social studies instructor for the 1984-85 school year at Phoenixville Area Junior High School.

Myron Sevick, Jr. of Pennsylvania Furnace, Pa., has accepted a position as sales manager for R.T. Markle Farm Equipment, Inc.

Michelle Bartol of Huntingdon, Pa., has been appointed an admissions counselor at Juniata College.

Jay E. Jones of Dayton, Ohio, is pursuing a master of divinity degree as well as ordination by the United Methodist Church.

James Kralik, III, of Laramie, Wy., is attending the University of Wyoming. He is studying geology, and his wife Ann (Taylor) is also attending the University of Wyoming, studying agronomy.

Michael D. Sachais of Atlanta, Ga., is a systems engineer for Management Science America in Atlanta.

Robert E. Adamek of Pittsburgh, Pa. has been appointed an admissions counselor at Juniata College.

Lawrence Delearde and Francois Descamp, '82, December 22, 1983, Mons-en-Bareoul, France

Susan Berger '82 and Don A. DeArmitt '82, June 23, 1984, Pittsburgh, PA

Joyce K. Lacy '82 and Eric G. Frisbie, August 29, 1984, Pennsauken, NJ

Maria A. Manscako and Pamiano D. Pettine '82, June 9, 1984, Norristown, PA

Regina Wood '82 and Dr. Norman Pollard, September 1, 1984, Harrisonburg, VA

Sharon W. Twaddell '83 and Douglas L. Grossman '83, October 6, 1984, East Windsor, NJ

Lucinda A. Slezak '83 and Nickles G. Spryn, June 23, 1984, Columbia, MD

Karen M. Krajewski and Jeffrey D. Booher '84, August 11, 1984, Reynoldsville, PA

Debra Hoover '84 and Eric B. Foster '83, 1984, West Chester, PA

Ann J. Taylor '83 and James Kralick, III '84, August 4, 1984, Laramie, WY

BIRTHS

David Michael, born to Lila (Eggart) '68 and Dennis Darling, May 20, 1984

Katryana Cobourne, born to Sherri and Paul C. Keely '70, March 20, 1984

Emily Ann, born to Nancy and Jeffrey L. Mace '71, April 14, 1984

Suzanne Elizabeth, born to Sallie (Hoyanyecz) '72 and Duane Brown, March 31, 1984

David Paul, born to Linda (Hoover) and Clay Z. Moyer '72-'72, October 15, 1984

Scott Ryan, born to Marylou and Jeffrey A. Laudenslager '73, September 5, 1984

Andrea Marie, born to Linda (Walters) and Phillip Simmons '73-'72, August 11, 1984

Meghan Elaine, born to Karen and Dr. Courtney R. Snyder '73, December 16, 1983

Donald Eric, born to Janet (Molvie) and Donald L. Hasenmayer '74-'74, February 19, 1984

Lindsay Michele, born to Barbara and Dr. Brian Hoover '74, September 24, 1984

Quilt Exhibit Planned

More than 20 colorful quilts will be on display in Juniata's Shoemaker Galleries May 5 through Reunion Weekend (May 31-June 2). The quilts belong to Kathryn Holsinger Ott '59 of Bethlehem and were made by four generations of her family, several of whom were Juniata alumni. The quilts, most of which are more than 50 years old, were all made in Blair County and are in very good condition. There will be an opening reception for the exhibit at 3 p.m., May 5 in Shoemaker Galleries.

Bob and Dolly Moore (left), co-chairpersons of the Juniata Parents Association, talk with President and Mrs. Binder following the annual Parents Association breakfast.

David Matthew, born to Helen and Gary L. Ober '74, May 30, 1984

Abigail Lauren, born to Debra (Frazier) and H. Chris Peterson '74-'74, June 25, 1984

Chris and Alex, twin sons born to Lynne (Opdyke) '76 and Eric C. Lindh, May 19, 1983

Rebecca Lynn, born to Andrea (Hirsh) '77 and Richard Arndt, August 13, 1984

Andrew, born to Ellen and Douglas Garner '78, November 20, 1984

Catherine Scott, born to Megan and Lane G. Klobucar '78, October 6, 1984

Aimee Lynn, born to Karen and Richard A. Smith '78, November 7, 1983

A. Jason, born to Deborah (Kreis) '79 and Arthur Brown, December 29, 1983

Christopher Charles, born to Pam (Green) and Dr. Randy L. Kochel '80-'79

Hillary Jan, born to Lori and Charles G. Koller, Jr. '79, May 28, 1984

Robert Andrew, born to Amanda (Slawson) '79 and Joseph A. Passarelli, October 7, 1983

Elizabeth Ann, born to Elizabeth (Love) and David Ward, '81-'79, November 14, 1984

Jennifer Elizabeth, born to Joan (Keiser) and Patrick Daly '79-'80, July 10, 1984

Ashlee Marie, born to Sue and James Jones '80, June 10, 1984

Lauren Marie, born to Dawn and James Zimmerman '80, September 29, 1984

Marie Adele, born to Nancy (Bauer) and Stanford Cluster '81-'81, May 19, 1984

Brian Matthew, born to Valerie (Stirrat) '81 and Capt. John Reynolds, October 12, 1984

Stacey Marie, born to Mary Ann (Galliker) and David W. Gilles '83-'82, August 9, 1984

Correction:

Nancy and Stanley C. Pote are the proud parents of a daughter Bethany Dawn. Unfortunately, this announcement in the July issue of the Alumni Bulletin read: Stephanie Dawn born to Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Tote. Our apologies. Congratulations to the Potes!

IN MEMORIAM

1907	Ada (HOUSEHOLDER) Gehrett
1910	J. W. Hazlett
1912	Charles E. Brown
1923	Roy W. Wolfgang
1924	Esther (MOBUS) Aries
1925	Carl P. Harlock
1927	Irene (HALE) Andrews
1928	John A. Meloy
1928	Dorothy (FOUSE) McCahan
1930	Marian (HARTMAN) Pentz
1934	Dorothy (SWIGART) Weikert
1937	Dr. Paul S. Hoover
1944	Julia I. Corrigan
1951	Edwin H. Marschka

September 30, 1984
August 27, 1984
September 9, 1984
November 2, 1984
August 14, 1984

May 30, 1984
September 21, 1984
September 28, 1984

September 11, 1984
November 13, 1984
June 30, 1984
September 29, 1984

Juniata College Concert Choir Tour 1985

The Juniata College Concert Choir, Dr. Joseph W. Figg, conductor

February 23	York, PA	Christ Lutheran Church	7:30 p.m.
February 24	Lynchburg, VA	Holy Trinity Lutheran Church	7:30 p.m.
February 25	Christiansburg, VA	Christiansburg Church of Brethren	7:30 p.m.
February 27	Nashville, TN	Woodland Presbyterian Church	7:30 p.m.
February 28	Fern Creek, KY	St. Alban's Episcopal Church	8 p.m.
March 1	New Carlisle, OH	New Carlisle Church of Brethren	7:30 p.m.
March 3	Sewickley, PA	St. Stephen's Episcopal Church	9 and 11 a.m.

ORDER FORM

FILL IN INFORMATION BELOW:

Item No.	Quantity	Size/Description	Price	Total
<input type="checkbox"/> Check Enclosed <input type="checkbox"/> Money Order	Ship To: Your Name: _____ Address: _____ City and State _____ Zip Code _____		PA residents only 6% sales tax on non-clothing items Postage & Handling Total Enclosed	$1.50

- A. blue cotton napkin, $2.50
- B. blue vinyl placemat with Founders Hall imprint, $3.75
- C. Wedgewood commemorative plate with Beeghly Library, $4.00
- D. Vermont marble college seal coaster, $4.95
- E. desk pen holder with Founders Hall imprint, $10.75
- F. plastic non-breakable coffee cup, $2.35
- G. adult's imprinted apron, $12.00
- H. 3 J.C. Indian imprinted cotton handkerchiefs, $5.95
- I. child's reversible pinafore, sizes toddlers 1, 2, 3 and child's 4-6, $11.95
- J. child's apron, sizes sm, med, lg, $9.50
- K. J.C. captain's chair, black lacquered finish, cherry arms, gold college seal on back, $130 plus motor freight charged for delivery to your address from Juniata College Bookstore.
- L. J.C. necktie — navy with gold Founders Hall tower imprint, $13.95

Make checks payable to: Juniata College Bookstore, Ellis Hall, Huntingdon, PA 16652
(Telephone: 814/643-4310, ext. 380)

ALL ITEMS GUARANTEED
PRICES SUBJECT TO CHANGE WITHOUT NOTICE
ORDERS SUBJECT TO QUANTITIES AVAILABLE

JUNIATA COLLEGE

ALUMNI TOURS

1985

GREECE AND 7-DAY AEGEAN CRUISE

APRIL 19-MAY 3, 1985

Three days in Athens; then tour Olympic peninsula to Corinth, Epidaurus, Nauplia, Mycenae, Delphi, and Monastery at Osios Laukas. Cruise to Crete, Santorini, Rhodes, Ephesus, Istanbul, and Mykonos. Ancient and modern Greece, fine cuisine and proud history. Four dinners plus all meals on cruise for about $2000 including airfare New York to Athens. Inquire about possible optional two weeks to Spain/Portugal following this trip for additional price of about $620.

SPOTLIGHT ON RUSSIA AND CRIMEA

JULY 14-28, 1985

Fly through Helsinki to Moscow for three days; on to Kiev; fly to Simferopol and continue to Yalta on the Black Sea. Back to Leningrad for three days of sightseeing and farewell dinner. Price of $1899 includes everything — all meals, flights, sightseeing and tour guides. An excellent learning experience.

BERMUDA GETAWAY

NOVEMBER 14-18, 1985

Repeating this popular program from Philadelphia to the Hamilton Princess with airfare, breakfast and dinner, transfers included for about $440. 104 alumni and friends have gone already; we plan a reunion tour and ask others to join for shopping, sightseeing, dining pleasure! Put this on your calendar now.

ARE YOU INTERESTED?

SPAIN/PORTUGAL

May 1-16

ALASKA WITH CRUISE

July

EGYPT/KENYA SAFARI (AFRICA)

September 19-October 6

CANADA BY RAIL

August

Inquire: Office of Alumni Affairs
Juniata College
Huntingdon, PA 16652
(814) 643-4310

Office of College Advancement
Juniata College
Huntingdon, PA 16652

BULK RATE
U.S. POSTAGE
PAID
Permit No. 39
Huntingdon, Pa.
16652

Address Correction Requested

Calendar of Events

April 13, 1985	Central Pennsylvania Club Event
	York First Church of the Brethren
April 19, 1985	Kishacoquillas Club Event
May 3-4, 1985	Board of Trustees Meeting
May 26, 1985	Commencement
May 31-June 2, 1985	Reunion Weekend
September 28, 1985	Parents' Weekend
October 18-19, 1985	Board of Trustees Meeting
October 18-19, 1985	Homecoming Weekend